2022 Consolidated Grants Review and Ranking

Ms. Black reviewed the Consolidated Grants process and PRTPO’s role in evaluating and ranking projects for the statewide competitive process. WSDOT received fifteen proposals from applicants in the Peninsula region that PRTPO must review and rank for WSDOT.

As it has for many cycles, PRTPO convened a panel of independent reviewers to do a thorough review of each proposal and develop a recommendation on ranking for the Board to consider. This year’s review panel was made up of Ted Jackson with the Port of Allyn, Marty Allen with the Skokomish Tribe, Melissa Mohr with Kitsap County, and Robin Rettew, former Assistant Director of Public Transportation for WSDOT and now retired. Panel members received copies of the application packets to review and also watched short presentation videos each applicant prepared. They met on December 6th to share their evaluation results and develop a recommendation for the Board’s consideration.

The Review Panel recommends the following project rankings for the 2022 Consolidated Grants process:

(7) ‘A’ Rank Projects

Clallam Transit	Paratransit Services – Clallam County
ECHHO	Jefferson County Volunteer Driver Program
Jamestown S’Klallam Tribe	Sustain Rte 50 Service to Blyn
Jefferson Transit	East Jefferson Operating Assistance
Jefferson Transit	West Jefferson Operating Assistance
Makah Tribe	Makah Transit Operations
Mason Transit	Sustain Dial-a-Ride Services in Mason County

(5) ‘B’ Rank Projects

Jamestown S’Klallam Tribe	Electric Shuttle Bus for Healing Clinic
Kitsap Transit	Paratransit (ACCESS) Bus Purchase
Mason Transit	Replace Three 35’ Buses
Squaxin Island Tribe	Operating Assistance for Squaxin Transit
Squaxin Island Tribe	Squaxin Transit Capital Equipment

(3) ‘C’ Ranked Projects

Jamestown S’Klallam Tribe	CTR Study and Plan for Tribe’s Employees
Coastal CAP	Thurston-Mason ADA Van Replacement
Coastal CAP	Thurston-Mason Drive to Opportunity

Ms. Black advised that there is no implicit ranking in each category. Projects are listed alphabetically by sponsor.

Chair Ashby clarified that PRTPO had only five 'B' rank slots to assign due to some four-year projects selected for funding two years ago that account for two of the region's seven slots.

ACTION: Mr. Meyer moved and Mr. Allen seconded to approve the rank assignment of Consolidated Grants applications recommended by the Review Panel for submittal to WSDOT. The motion passed unanimously.

Amend Consolidated Grants Projects into Human Services Transportation Plan

Ms. Black reported that to satisfy Consolidated Grants requirements the projects selected for funding must be amended into the Human Services Transportation Plan that PRTPO adopted in October. This was anticipated in the design of the document and an appendix is already identified to include the projects.

ACTION: Ms. Clark-Getzin moved and Mr. Meyer seconded to approve Resolution 04-2022 amending the 2022 Human Services Transportation Plan to include Consolidated Grants projects as recommended to WSDOT. The motion passed unanimously.

Information Request from Steve Roark

Mr. Roark explained that he will return to the Board's February meeting to provide a comprehensive overview of WSDOT activities in the region. He just received budget information and will report out on that, noting several projects in the region "aged out" and are proposed for later years in the Governor's budget than originally envisioned. He also plans to talk about the tremendous amount of construction activity on the US 101 corridor that will get underway next year, adding that he is in communications with the Olympic Peninsula Tourism Board about coordination needs. He invited Board members to identify other topics or specific projects they would like him to address when he briefs the Board in February.

Ms. Clark-Getzin commented on the seeming disconnect between Simdars Road interchange improvements that are now proposed for the mid-2030s and the related East Sequim safety projects slated to move earlier. She would like some clarity on how the elements of the two projects line up and long-term implications for the budget and project coordination.

Mr. Neatherlin advised that a discussion about the SR 3 Freight Corridor is in order. It is greatly delayed in the proposed budget, not just a couple of years as WSDOT has said. He expressed concern that this contradicts long-standing agreements between WSDOT and Mason County. Mr. Roark explained that the Governor's budget is influenced by many factors and is just a proposal to the legislature. The legislature has the authority to rearrange the project delivery schedule. He invited Mr. Neatherlin to contact him directly and not wait until the February meeting to discuss this further. Ms. Black offered to route the Governor's transportation project list to members after the meeting.

Chair Ashby pointed Mr. Roark to PRTPO's legislative priority for 2023, that of implementing a federal funding swap pilot program and including Clallam, Jefferson, and/or Mason County in that pilot program. She asked him to share his perspective on what a federal funding swap program might mean for local project delivery.

Ms. Clark-Getzin noted that it might be helpful to develop a digital mapping tool that enables him to show how the various projects relate to each other time to time to better understand where and when communities might expect big impacts from US 101 and other construction.

Mr. Roark thanked the members for their questions and concerns, and will report back to them in depth in February.

Approve SFY 2023 UPWP Task 4 Scope of Work

Ms. Black reviewed the purpose of the Board-directed Task 4 work element in the Unified Planning Work Program. In October the Board considered how it might direct a $10,000 work effort between January and June of 2023. Priority interests were expressed around rural transit including first-mile/last-mile connections and expanding awareness of long-distance intercity services.

In developing the proposed scope for Board consideration Ms. Black considered interests raised in October as well as insights gained working with transit agencies in late October and November on Consolidated Grants and other funding opportunities.

The proposed scope will leverage the remaining GIS services contract to develop a selection of baseline regional data and mapping tools that will support transit agencies but also others looking to respond to equity questions on state and federal grants. The scope will also produce a synthesis of innovative first-mile/last-mile practices in comparable rural communities around the country that transit partners can reference for potential use. It will also generate some ideas for expanding communication that helps increase awareness of the growing array of long-distance intercity bus options currently available.

Ms. Black reported that there may be additional end-of-biennium funding from WSDOT that could be used to obtain another year of GIS service credit. If that is true then the data platform for this work can ramp up a little more and possibly provide some momentum for an update of the Regional Transportation Plan next biennium, if the Board decides to pursue it then.

Ms. Clark-Getzin commented the proposed scope supports important needs identified during outreach for the Human Services Transportation Plan. She appreciated the potential nexus with the next RTP update and supported PRTPO efforts to get some additional money from WSDOT for that purpose. [Mr. Bateman arrived]

ACTION: Mr. Meyer moved and Ms. Clark-Getzin seconded to approve the proposed work plan for SFY 2023 UPWP Task 4 Board-directed activities. The motion passed unanimously.

Kick-off SFY 2024-2025 Work Program Development

Ms. Black reported that over the next couple of meetings the Board will develop a new budget and work plan for the SFY 2024-2025 biennium that starts in July. Ms. Black asked members to discuss what elements of PRTPO's work they've found particularly useful or rewarding, and which things might be minimized if possible. This can help inform the next UPWP so that it is as useful as possible for members.

Chair Ashby explained that her objective as chair has been to ensure the work program doesn't just satisfy state requirements but also meets members needs. She advised this upcoming year will be her last year on the PRTPO Board. PRTPO is well into its third year as an independent RTPO in charge of its own work program. PRTPO's organizational structure puts the Executive Board in charge of directing the work program, not staff. She is working to create more opportunities for member engagement.

Chair Ashby identified the opportunity to do an overhaul of the RTP in the next biennium, though it probably would not be complete before her term expires at the end of 2023. She described a plan that is dynamic, useful, built on a GIS platform that can be easily updated over time. She invited other ideas and insights.

Ms. Asher appreciated the opportunity to weigh in but expressed concern about staff resources with a limited budget. Ms. Black acknowledged the budget constraints. She noted that the RCW stipulates what PRPTO must do to comply with state requirements but not how to do it. Her aim is to use input from the Board to shape how

PRTPO meets its requirements so that the work program is as meaningful as possible to PRTPO members and their communities. [Mr. Stern arrived]

Ms. Clark-Getzin commented on the value members got from the electric vehicle webinars PRTPO organized. This is an area with more opportunity if there is budget to support it. Carbon credits are a major new topic that no one seems to know much about.

Ms. Asher concurred, explaining how the Clean Fuel Standard 101 webinar PRTPO hosted in early fall opened her eyes to the changes about to take effect in January. She shared the webinar video link with members of the state transit association which prompted them to begin establishing a registry to support transit agencies across the state. There is an RFP on the streets now for a state-level initiative resulting from that PRTPO webinar.

Chair Ashby noted that this role of facilitator and convener is a logical fit for PRTPO and is not terribly expensive to carry out. This is an example of something that generates significant value to PRTPO members with modest staff effort required.

Mr. Anderson advised that the topic of hydrogen is coming up frequently at port conferences and trade association discussions. There is a lot of activity underway in Washington state to expand access to hydrogen and deploy more hydrogen-powered vehicles. This is a potential area where PRTPO can help by disseminating information to members or arranging learning sessions. [Ted Jackson arrived]

Chair Ashby asked members directly whether they find value in the legislative agenda and outreach activities. Members responded affirmatively.

Ms. Black advised that in February the Board will have a chance to talk about specifics for the next work program.

Legislative Forum Debrief

Chair Ashby reported on activities since the Board met in October that led to the legislative meeting on December 1st. Scheduling challenges precluded an evening meeting and so this year the meeting was held during the day. Representative Chapman attended along with numerous Board members. Chair Ashby had asked the transportation managers from the three rural counties to help explain the need for the federal funding swap and potential implications for project delivery with state instead of federal funds.

Mr. Gray reported that the meeting went well and Representative Chapman is supportive of the proposal. All three counties are interested in participating, if possible.

Mr. Reinders concurred that it was a productive meeting. He reported that the WA State Association of County Engineers has been working on this ahead of session and has some momentum already. They are working on draft language that will be shared with Representative Chapman as they get started on this work. He talked with his counterpart in Oregon about their program and got reports of increased efficiency and positive experience. There are good examples to draw from to ensure Washington's program is as successful.

Chair Ashby thanked everyone for their participation in developing this year's legislative agenda and for participating in the forum. Ms. Black reminded everyone that the Transportation Outlook 2023 folio is easy to find on the PRTPO website (PRTPO.org) and download for reference or sharing.

PRTPO Coordinator's Report

Ms. Black highlighted a few points in the report, including a statewide effort to verify FCC assumptions about high-speed broadband access. This information will inform how much federal money Washington state receives to expand broadband access. She also acknowledged the hard work and coordination of Squaxin Island Tribe, Skokomish Tribe, and Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe with WSU Green Transportation Program and other partners to complete an application for funding from Commerce to develop Transportation Electrification Plans. Funding announcements will be made this winter. Finally, she reiterated earlier comments about the Climate Commitment Act, Clean Fuel Standards and emissions credits, and other transformational new programs going into effect in January. She encouraged members to take advantage of any briefings they might be offered through their various channels as these are far-reaching, complicated programs going into effect on January 1st. She encouraged members to share the Coordinator's Report with their staff and colleagues, and to get in touch with her if they have questions or need more information.

Mr. Stern explained in more detail the importance of the FCC broadband assessment, noting the FCC has wildly optimistic assumptions about the reach of broadband into the Kitsap and Olympic Peninsulas. He encouraged members to use their council briefings to talk about this and rally constituents to do the speed test at home and issue a challenge if their results don't align with FCC assumptions. He showed a QR code that can be easily used to collect data and share it with the FCC. He will forward it to Ms. Black to share with all the members. The deadline for completing the FCC challenge is January 13, 2023. Results will influence how much money Washington receives for broadband.

Public Comments

There were no public comments.

Member Updates

Mr. Stern reported that Poulsbo was successful in getting additional funding from TIB for the SR 305 roundabout underway. With supply chain issues and delays, the project is over budget. He noted it will include a significant piece of artwork commemorating the Suquamish Tribe.

3P Transportation Services provided additional support to the Squaxin Island Tribe-Mason County EV Consortium team and the Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe project team, both of which are pursuing an Electrification of Transportation Systems (ETS) grant from Department of Commerce to develop EV implementation plans for each of their communities. This includes grant writing support, meeting facilitation, and coordination activities necessary to ensure successful project applications.

3P Transportation Services also responded to a Department of Commerce Request for Information (RFI) about the EV grant programs they are administering, specifically with regard to barriers that EV grant applications and contracting processes inadvertently pose to the tribal and other rural communities that Commerce wants to participate. Additionally, how Commerce might better utilize RTPOs to engage with its target audiences. RFI comments reflected insights and experience gained from working with partners across the Peninsula region. 3PT will meet with Commerce staff in early November to discuss specific points further.

3P Transportation Services will participate on a panel November 2nd for the North Olympic Development Council-Pacific NW National Labs Energy Futures Conference, speaking about how to reduce greenhouse gas emissions generated by transportation. October activities included coordination with panel members and preparing a presentation.

3P Transportation Services is working with House staff to help coordinate input from MPOs and RTPOs about the potential value of Washington's participation as an "add-on" to the National Household Travel Survey in 2025. I was a member of FHWA's NHTS Task Force between 2010-2015 and am acting in that capacity on this effort.

While there is synergy between PRTPO's work program and some activities described above, they were not conducted as a part of the PRTPO work program and are not included in the work described in this invoice.

ACTION ITEM

To: PRTPO Executive Board
From: Thera Black, PRTPO Coordinator
Date: February 10, 2023
Subject: SFY 2023 End-of-Biennium Supplemental Funding Request

REQUESTED ACTION:

Approve PRTPO request of $21,110 in end-of-biennium state RTPO funds from WSDOT and authorize the Chair to execute agreements on behalf of the Board if necessary to secure the supplemental funds.

Overview

As the end of the biennium approaches WSDOT will redistribute RTPO planning funds turned back by regions to those that can use a little supplemental funding to complete work this biennium. Supplemental funding does not carry over to the new biennium and must be spent by June 30, 2023. PRTPO has use for supplemental funding.

Supplemental funding in the amount of $21,110 would enable PRTPO to obtain another year of GIS services through its AWC GIS Consortium services contract and offset a very small biennium budget shortfall of $3,400 (1.2% of biennium budget) which would otherwise be accommodated by reducing work program activities by that amount. In anticipation of WSDOT's pending call for supplemental funding requests we confirmed that these would both be eligible expenses if selected for funding.

When WSDOT does issue its request for supplemental funding the turnaround time for response and approval process will be quick. The Board's requested action not only authorizes PRTPO to request supplemental funding when WSDOT issues its notice, it also authorizes the Chair to execute necessary agreements with WSDOT to secure that funding if it is necessary to complete this before the Board meets again in April.

The Board will be briefed on the outcome of this funding request in April. If PRTPO is successful, the Board will at that time formally amend the additional funds into the current UPWP and retroactively approve any other funding decisions made by the Chair. Authorization of PRTPO budget and work program decisions rests with the Executive Board. If PRTPO does not receive funding, we will simply tighten our belt a little between now and the end of the fiscal year and forego the extended GIS services contract for SFY 2024.

Next Steps

Staff will respond to the pending request for funding when it is issued by WSDOT. Given the anticipated quick turnaround for responses, the Executive Committee authorized staff to proceed with a response if the solicitation for proposals opens before the Board meets on February 17th.

DISCUSSION ITEM

To: PRTPO Executive Board
From: Thera Black, PRTPO Coordinator
Date: February 10, 2023
Subject: Guidance on Priority Initiatives for SFY 2024-2025 UPWP

REQUESTED ACTION:

No action is requested. Input from the Board will be used to develop a draft two-year Unified Planning Work Program for Board review and refinement in April.

Background

In April the Board will review a draft two-year work program to guide PRTPO’s regional planning activities from July 1, 2023 through June 30, 2025. That draft Unified Planning Work Program, or UPWP, will describe the work PRTPO will do to fulfill its responsibilities as a Regional Transportation Planning Organization and the budget to accomplish it. While official budget estimates have not yet been received from WSDOT, PRTPO expects to receive about $275,000 to support its work and administrative overhead expenses for the biennium.

In preparing to develop a new work program, Board members talked in December about activities over the last few years that have added value to their PRTPO participation and opportunities to build on that in the future. This included:

- learning opportunities with guest speakers on a variety of topics
- development of online resources to support regional and local information needs
- development of PRTPO policy positions and targeted communications for its annual Transportation Outlook legislative priorities
- distribution of grant funding opportunities, and
- convening regional stakeholders in both formal and informal settings to promote better coordination and communication across agencies and sectors.

Members of the Technical Advisory Committee added to this the value they derive from the exchange of ideas around the regional table and shared insights they draw from each other’s experience. Emerging areas of regional interest include expanding EV readiness resources to include the role of hydrogen in electrifying freight, rural transit, aviation, and other heavy transportation sectors. Members also see opportunities to increase regional resilience and emergency preparedness over the coming years through cooperative measures.

Those insights are useful in thinking about how to make PRTPO member engagement most meaningful over the next biennium. This month the Board is asked to provide guidance on priority areas of focus over the next two years. This will help us develop a draft work program for Board review in April that reflects as much as possible the priorities of PRTPO members.

Work Program Priorities

The PRTPO budget is small but sufficient to undertake an appropriately scaled major work program activity. This memo outlines one such activity for Board consideration. Members are encouraged to bring other ideas to the table for discussion in February.

Overhaul the Regional Transportation Plan: One of PRTPO's requirements as a rural RTPO is to maintain and periodically update a long-range regional transportation plan (RTP). The current 2040 RTP was developed by WSDOT in the lead-up to the organizational transition and adopted by PRTPO in October 2019.

The concept discussed and recommended by the Executive Committee as a top priority for Board consideration would be an overhaul of the RTP, simplifying it and migrating it to an online format similar to what was done for the Human Services Transportation Plan. The intent would be to develop a long-range plan that is better integrated with PRTPO's other mandated responsibilities, provides more value to members, and which is more efficient to maintain and update over time.

This focus area would piggyback on work completed for the Human Services Transportation Plan and Task 4 activities underway this spring. While it is an ambitious undertaking, an RTP update is feasible alongside PRTPO's other core functions but would preclude any other new initiatives.

Member Ideas: Members are encouraged to bring other priority ideas to the table for discussion in February. The reason it is important to bring ideas forward now is that over the next two months staff and Executive Committee members will draft a work plan and budget for review in April that addresses Board priorities. April is too late in this process to consider major new work program priorities for the first time.

This exploration of big ideas is useful before committing PRTPO's next two-year work program to any particular direction. The Board will take action on its final two-year work program in June.

DISCUSSION ITEM

To: PRTPO Executive Board
From: Thera Black, PRTPO Coordinator
Date: February 10, 2023
Subject: Transportation Alternatives Strategy for 2023

REQUESTED ACTION:

No action is requested. This briefing is to update the Board on local interest in a CY 2023 Transportation Alternatives call for projects.

Background

PRTPO is responsible for awarding federal Transportation Alternatives (TA) program funds to priority projects. Federal TA funds support a wide range of project types but are probably best known for funding non-motorized projects, special landscaping and remediation projects, Safe Routes to School projects, and historic preservation projects.

The annual amount of TA funds that PRTPO is authorized to program is very small for federal funds, averaging about $250,000 a year to be awarded through a competitive process. That funding level is expected to increase by about $80,000 a year but is still a very low amount of federal funds to award through a competitive process. That is why PRTPO awards multiple years of funding in a single process.

In 2020 PRTPO allocated four years' worth of funding in a single call for projects, awarding $1.1 million to four projects. PRTPO planned to conduct a call for projects biennially from then on. During its call for projects in 2022 to award $516,000 though, PRTPO received no applications. A debrief with TAC members revealed the dollar amount was too low for a competitive federal funding process. It was determined at that time to consult with the TAC early in 2023 to determine the best window for a new call for projects.

In January the TAC discussed local interest in pursuing federal TA funds this year. Members discussed the many projects they are currently working to deliver and the timing of other federal funding programs with much larger amounts to award. There was general consensus that it would be better to conduct a call for projects in 2024 and suggested a check-in with the TAC in September 2023 to assess local interest before launching the new program.

Next Steps

Staff will meet with the TAC in September to gage the likely level of local interest in a 2024 Transportation Alternatives call for projects and seek direction from the Board in October as to whether to initiate a new call for projects. At that time and with slightly increased funding, PRTPO might expect to have about $1.4 million to award by fully programming available funds through FY 2028.

INFORMATION ITEM

To: PRTPO Executive Board
From: Thera Black, PRTPO Coordinator
Date: February 10, 2023
Subject: PRTPO Coordinator's Report

This update is for your information. Links to additional resources are provided where appropriate. Some information in this report may have value to others in your organization and is intended to be shared. My contact information is at the end if anyone has follow-up questions.

Information of Interest

- UPWP Task 4 Update: Work is underway to develop a regional data portal that will enable transit and others to evaluate equity measures in terms of service or project investments. We expect to have a prototype to share with the TAC in March for feedback and refinements. We will reach out directly to all the tribes in the region to discuss how tribal populations are presented. I have also been digging into an array of resources regarding the use of emerging technologies and new partnerships by rural transit systems across the country. I expect a transit work session will occur before the next Board meeting.
- Regional Tribes Win Department of Commerce Grant. The regional consortium of Squaxin Island Tribe with the Skokomish Tribe and Jamestown S'Klallam Tribe were awarded $315,000 from the Clean Energy Fund to complete Transportation Electrification Plans (TEP) for each tribe. Other project partners include Mason PUD 3, Mason PUD 1, and Clallam PUD as well as Mason Transit, which is developing its own FTA-compliant transition plan during this same time, and City of Sequim which will be developing a Transportation Master Plan. The WSU's Green Transportation Technical Team will lead the work and handle administrative and reporting requirements. The Bonneville Environmental Foundation is providing the $31,500 local match. Completion of TEPs will leave the tribes and their partners well-positioned for implementation funding from grants and other Climate Commitment Act investment opportunities.
- Rural RTPO Coordination Meeting Scheduled. A relatively new working group of rural RTPO staff across the state are meeting occasionally to improve the sharing of information and resources and other coordination activities on topics specific to rural WA. This is separate from the statewide MPO/RTPO Coordinating Committee meetings which are often dominated by metropolitan issues. This next meeting of rural RTPOs will be March 1st and include matters related to the funding swap pilot program, applicability to rural RTPOs of some RCW 47.80 requirements specific to urban issues, EV grant coordination opportunities, and sustainable base program funding for rural RTPOs.
- Pacific NW Hydrogen Alliance Invited to Submit Final Proposal to US Department of Energy for H2Hub. The PNWH2 Alliance aced the next round of competition and is now preparing its final application to DOE, due in April. The Pacific NW Hydrogen Association is a broad coalition of public, private, and not-for-profit organizations vying for federal designation as a national green hydrogen hub. Billions in federal funding will be directed to a small number of hubs around the country to jump start the commercial hydrogen industry. Washington's ace is green hydropower combined with its extensive investments in solar and wind to produce clean, renewable hydrogen for transport, industrial, and other uses. Many of Washington's transit agencies, tribes, ports, utilities, trucking manufacturers, and other industries are either participating on the Alliance or are monitoring its activities. I am working to arrange a learning session for the EV Infrastructure Exchange Group in March to get an overview of the latest in green and renewable hydrogen production in Washington State, innovative on-site production models, as well as potential H2 investment considerations related to the Climate Commitment Act and its funding programs.

Open Grant Processes

Here are a few opportunities that may be of interest. This is not an inclusive list. We will explore opportunities to expand our grant search and dissemination. There is an unprecedented number of funding opportunities on the near horizon.

Solar+Backup Storage for Resilient Communities Grant

This is a Commerce grant intended to keep community buildings running so essential services can continue when the power is out. This program has two different tracks open right now.

- Track 1 is for planning and pre-development activities needed to purchase and install a solar power and battery back-up power system to support continuity of operations during a disaster. This includes feasibility studies, site design, interconnection applications, community outreach and engagement. One of these planning grants will leave your community well-positioned to obtain an implementation grant in the next funding cycle. Track 1 minimum awards are $7,500 and maximum awards are $100,000. No match required.
- Track 2 will pay for installation of solar plus battery storage systems including final design, purchase and installation of equipment, commissioning, developing operational plans, training, and community outreach. Track 2 is a more rigorous application than Track 1, but as long as you've done your planning and pre-development work you should have the info needed. Track 2 minimum awards are $15,000 and maximum awards are $1.5 million. Minimum match for tribes is 10% match, and all others is 30%.

Commerce will award up to $35.4 million this funding cycle, with about 10% of that going to Track 1 planning projects and the rest going to Track 2 implementation projects.

Priority is given to projects that serve rural or remote areas, areas with power outages, and/or areas that are highly vulnerable to hazards. Eligible applicants include local and state governments, tribal governments, retail electric utilities, and non-profit organizations. Applications are due March 23rd.

Electrification of Transportation Systems – Round 2

This round of ETS grants from Commerce is providing grants to local and tribal governments for electric vehicle infrastructure. This is an implementation grant, not planning. And it is for charging infrastructure, not vehicles. This grant is notable in that it is restricted to tribes and rural communities. The minimum award is $30,000 and maximum award is $500,000, with a 10% match requirement. A total of $2.5 million is available. This is a tiered application process. The phase 1 screening applications are due March 6 and agencies notified to proceed need their final applications in by May 15. The phase 2 submission form is much more cumbersome than the phase 1 form. Potential applicants looking at this program are encouraged to look at what the phase 2 proposal entails before deciding it is the right grant to pursue.

Senator Murray's CDS Request Process is Open

On February 6th Senator Murray opened her funding request portal for Congressionally Directed Spending (CDS) proposals (aka earmarks).. Senator Murray is the new Chair of the Senate Appropriations Committee. The due date for submittals is February 28th, significantly earlier than it was in 2022. It is possible the deadline will be extended but for now agencies should assume it will not. It is an online request form. A copy of the 2022 form (attached) was provided by staff to help in preparing responses to the online form.

Federal RAISE Grants

This is the highly competitive federal funding program that succeeded "TIGER" and "BUILD" before it. There is a strong emphasis on investments in tribal and other rural communities. Planning and construction projects can both be funded though application requirements differ between them. Deadline is February 28th. This is a significant application process; if you have not already begun your application then it's best to wait until next year. For those applying this year, consider touching base with Casey Duff, Senator Cantwell's liaison for the Peninsula Region. He is a good ally and will have useful insights about the process.

Other PRTPO Meetings Since the Executive Board's December Meeting

- Technical Advisory Committee, January 19th. TAC members provided input on timing of the next Transportation Alternatives call for projects (discussed elsewhere in the agenda) and shared insights on aspects of the regional program that provide value to them as members. The TAC also got a status update on the federal funding swap pilot program working its way through the legislative process, and posed some process questions that were forwarded on to the team doing developing this new program. The big discussion featured a presentation on the proposed Puget Sound to Pacific Trail project that supporters are working up for a federal RAISE grant with lots of opportunity for questions and sharing of information among members about the concept shaping up and their various agencies' interests in participating.
- Executive Committee, February 2nd - EC members discussed the budget status going into the end of the biennium and opportunities to obtain supplemental funding for an additional year of GIS services. They heard the staff proposal to overhaul the RTP in the next biennium. They supported efforts to move that forward but also directed additional outreach to Board members to ensure there are not more important focus areas. Committee members got an update on the funding swap program. They set the Board's February agenda.
